SCILLA GLOBAL EQUITY

MONTHLY REPORT - SEPTEMBER 2022

PORTFOLIO MANAGER COMMENT

September became a dark month for the world's stock markets where, for example, the S&P 500 fell 8% during the month. The negative sentiment is driven by the high inflation in the world, which has led to interest rate hikes from several central banks. The fund ended the month with a decline of -3.1% (class C) and the fund's benchmark index -5.5%. During the month, volatility has been slightly higher on the stock market than the month before.

There has been a broad decline among the fund's sector exposures measured in local currency. The worst sectors have been utilities and materials. The sectors that have declined the least are finance and health care. Grouped by country, there are also broad declines. Companies in Japan and Canada have declined the least. There have been large movements on the foreign exchange market during the month where there have been mixed movements for the Swedish krona. SEK has depreciated by -4.7% against the USD and appreciated by 4.3% against the NOK.

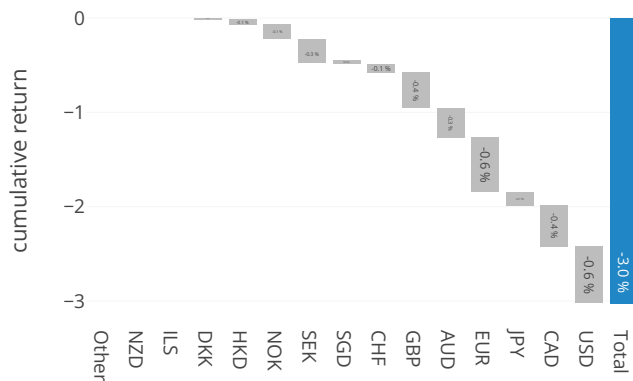

The following companies had the biggest movements during the month: Eli Lilly (+7%), Packaging Corp of America (-17%) and International Paper (-24%). Currently, the fund has an equity exposure of 87%.

INVESTMENT GOAL AND STRATEGY

Captor Scilla Global Equity is an actively managed fund that invests globally in developed market equities. The fund is based on Captor's investment strategy Scilla. The strategy invests in companies that offer an attractive ratio between expected return and risk, compared to the global market as a whole. The fund excludes from its universe companies that does not comply with Captor's ESG screening criteria, and screens its positions continuously.

Furthermore the strategy can shift the total equity exposure of the fund. In volatile markets the fund can up to 50% in cash or high grade bonds, and apply up to 20% leverage in calmer markets. The selection method means that the strategy is exposed to 200-300 companies, which is approximately one fifth of the fund's investable universe. The fund's strategy is tuned only slightly over time while the fundamental strategy stays the same.

REASONS TO INVEST

Captor Scilla Global Equity is suitable for those who want an allocation to global equities and at the same time have a stable level of risk.

HOW TO INVEST IN THE FUND

Some of the fund's share classes are available through Swedish banks and fund platforms. Furthermore, some share classes have a higher minimum investment, and for such share classes a dilution levy can be applied at subscription/redemption in order to protect the fund's shareholders. The process is the same as employed by exchange traded funds and also allows for physical creations/redemptions.

RISK PROFILE

The fund aims to have lower volatility than the corresponding market value-weighted investment over time, primarily reducing large sequential drawdowns in times of stressed markets.
